

NEWS RELEASE
For Immediate Release

March 7, 2006

SunCorp Staff Helps Build Homes for Those in Need

Denver, CO – Employees from SunCorp Corporate Credit Union’s Denver Regional Office and Corporate Headquarters recently assisted Habitat for Humanity on a housing project for people in need.

“Assisting Habitat for Humanity was very rewarding,” said Joanie Edquist, SunCorp Administrative Services Assistant and Habitat for Humanity participation coordinator. “Knowing that we were working for such a great cause allowed us to forget how tired we were after a long day of clearing foundations and putting up siding. We look forward to helping Habitat for Humanity again in the future.”

SunCorp employees Joanie Edquist (left) and Jill Robinson install siding while assisting Habitat for Humanity build duplexes.

SunCorp staff assisted the Flatirons chapter of Habitat for Humanity on duplexes being built in Broomfield, CO. They helped clear two foundations that had been poured and assisted with siding on one of the duplexes.

“This was a great opportunity for SunCorp staff to give back to the community,” said Thomas Graham, SunCorp President and CEO. “They worked very hard and truly have the ‘People Helping People’ philosophy that makes up the credit union industry.”

About Habitat for Humanity:

Habitat for Humanity is a nonprofit organization dedicated to building simple, decent, affordable houses in partnership with those who lack adequate shelter. Since 1976, Habitat has built more than 175,000 houses, providing shelter for nearly one million people worldwide. For more information, call 303.447.3787.

About SunCorp Corporate Credit Union:

SunCorp is one of the top ten corporate credit unions in the nation, providing financial services to credit unions and Credit Union Service Organizations in 20 states. SunCorp operates three Regional Offices, in Denver, Salt Lake City and Omaha. For more information, please visit www.suncorp.coop.

- 30 -

Summer Stallings, Marketing & Communications Specialist, SunCorp 877.786.2677, x4651
Ed Beckmann, Vice President, Marketing & Communications, SunCorp 877.786.2677, x4627